Tutorial EHRI Database

Mike Bryant, Veerle Vanden Daelen & Charlotte Hauwaert

Make sure you are on the EHRI Administration Interface page, via <https://portal.ehri-project.eu/admin>.

To gain access to the Administration Interface, you must first be given access by EHRI. If you don't have access, it is best to contact charlotte.hauwaert@cegesoma.be.

A screenshot of a web browser showing the EHRI Administration interface. The address bar shows 'ndse Akademi... (NL) | https://portal.ehri-project.eu/admin'. The main navigation bar is dark grey with white text, containing links for 'Portal', 'Search', 'Documentary Units', 'Historical Agents', 'Institutions', 'Terms', and 'More ▾'. The 'More' link has a dropdown arrow indicating additional options.

Welcome to the EHRI Administration interface

Recent Activity

At the portal (<https://portal.ehri-project.eu/>), you are able to see the same data, but in a different layout. You will not be able to make any changes here.

If you would have any feedback/comments/suggestions for the country reports, please send this information to charlotte.hauwaert@cegesoma.be.

A. Repositories

To create a new repository, we first need to locate the country it resides in. This is because repositories "belong" to countries (in the database at least).

Go to the "More => Countries" page, click on the country you need or fill it in in the search window.

Welcome to the EHRI Administration interface

Austria

Austria

History

Austria was occupied by the German Reich in March 1938 and annexed after a plebiscite. Many Austrians welcomed this "Anschluss", after which they were treated equally as Germans – a separate Austrian identity was denied by the Nazis. Austria was integrated into the general administration of the German Reich, and subdivided into Reichsgaue in 1939. In 1945 the Red Army took Vienna and eastern parts of the country, while the Western Allies occupied the western and southern sections.

In 1938, Austria had a total population of about 6,753,000 people. After the "Anschluss", between 201,000 and 214,000 of them, including refugees from Germany, were persecuted as Jews under the Nuremberg Laws. The Austrian Nazis, who had been outlawed before the "Anschluss", however, did not target only the Jews, but also other perceived "racial" enemies, such as the Roma, or national minorities, such as Czechs and Slovaks, and their political opponents, especially Communists, Social Democrats and supporters of the now deposed dictatorship of the "Ständestaat". In the process, Austrians became involved in all types of Nazi crimes. In the first days and weeks of Nazi rule, Jews were subject to brutal outbreaks of theft, violence and murder. Subsequently, most Jews in the provinces were forced to move to Vienna. After the pogrom in November 1938, about 6,500 male Jews from Austria were imprisoned, and 4,000 among them were sent to the Dachau concentration camp. By late 1939, more than half of the German-Jewish refugees had resorted to emigration to escape from Nazi anti-Jewish measures in Austria. During the war, the remaining Jews in Austria were subjected to ever increasing isolation by new regulations, including the forced transferral to smaller quarters and the introduction of the obligatory Jewish Star in 1941. Austrian Jews were subsequently deported to Minsk, to camps and ghettos in Poland and to the Theresienstadt ghetto in Bohemia. Most of those who survived there were subsequently deported to extermination camps. Overall, around 66,000 Austrian Jews perished in the Holocaust.

Fill in the relevant fields, based on the EHRI Guidelines for Descriptions (see Excel table “Collection-holding Institutions” for an overview of the fields and their desirability – each field in the database offers an explanatory pop-up window which opens when the field is selected and the EHRI Guidelines).

The “Identifier” value: will be pre-filled automatically and should be left as it is. It is imperative that the description is in English and to designate “English” as the language of the description.

In case of non-Latin script for the original name of the repository, please follow:

Authorized form of name	Original name in original script
Parallel names	English translation of name
	Original name, transliteration into Latin characters
Other names	Abbreviations
	Old names (mention date between brackets if known)

Once you have filled out all the fields you may click the “Create Repository” button at the bottom. You should be aware that once you hit this button, your input will be incorporated in the database at once.

The screenshot shows the 'Create Repository' interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links like Portal, Search, Documentary Units, Historical Agents, Institutions, Terms, More, Help, Admin Site, and a user icon. Below the navigation, the word 'Austria' is displayed.

The main form area has several sections:

- Identity Area: Contains a field labeled 'Identifier *' with the value '006265' highlighted by a green box. A note below says 'Minimum length: 2'.
- Address Area: Contains a dropdown menu labeled 'Language of Description' with the value '---'.
- Description Area: Contains a text input field labeled 'Authorized Form Of Name'.
- Access Area: Contains sections for 'Parallel Names' and 'Other Names', each with a plus sign icon.
- Services Area: Contains a text input field for a message: 'Tell people what you're doing (optional, 400 characters max...)'. A red arrow points to the 'Create Repository' button at the bottom right of this section.
- Control Area: Contains a 'Formatting tips' link.
- Administration: Contains a 'Formatting tips' link.

At the bottom right of the form, there are 'Create Repository' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Once a repository has been created, you can always update it by going to its home page and clicking “Edit Item”.

The Austrian Reconciliation Fund has accomplished its task and was closed by 31 December 2005. It is therefore not possible anymore to forward applications to this fund or to obtain payments from it. In total, 132.395 persons from 70 countries have submitted their files to the Reconciliation Fund and obtained a payment from it. In 2005/6 all restitution files were handed over to Austria's State Archive; access seems restricted.

B. Authorities – Historical agents

Step 1: Verify in the authorities whether the creator of the collection you wish to add already exists

To do this, you click on “Historical agents” (fourth from the left in the toolbar on top)

The screenshot shows a web-based application interface with a navigation bar at the top. The 'Historical Agents' tab is highlighted with a red box. Other tabs include 'Portal', 'Search', 'Documentary Units', 'Institutions', 'Terms', and 'More'. On the right side of the top bar are 'Help', 'Admin Site', and a user profile icon. Below the navigation bar is a search bar with a placeholder 'Search' and a 'Search' button. To the right of the search bar are 'Advanced query tips' and a 'Authority Type' filter section. The 'Authority Type' section includes checkboxes for 'Person (10098)', 'Corporate Body (3225)', and 'Family (7)'. The main content area displays search results for 'Molotov Vyacheslav Mikhaylovich'. It shows his status as a 'Person' updated 2 weeks ago on 09/03/1890 08/11/1986. A brief description follows: 'Soviet statesman and diplomat, foreign minister 1939-49 and 1953-56. Negotiated the German-Soviet Nonaggression Pact 1939.' Below this is another entry for 'Saburov Aleksandr', also a 'Person' updated 2 weeks ago on 01/08/1908 15/04/1974. A brief description follows: 'One of the leaders of Soviet partisan movement in Ukraine and western Russia.'

You type in the name of the creator (person or corporate body) you are looking for. If the authority already exists, you can skip the next step and go straight to “C. Collections”

If the authority already exists and you wish to add information, please click on “edit item”, and follow the guidelines for writing authorities for personalities and organizations are available in DL17.3.

Step 2: If the authority is not found, you need to create it before you create it.

To create an authority, go to “More” => “Authority Sets”

The screenshot shows the same interface as above, but the 'More' tab is now selected and a dropdown menu is open. The 'Authority Sets' option is highlighted with a red box. Other options in the dropdown include 'Users', 'Groups', 'Countries', 'Vocabularies', 'History', 'Database Queries', and 'Refresh Search Index'. To the right of the dropdown is the 'Authority Type' filter and 'Authority Set' list, which are identical to the previous screenshot.

There you can see “EHRI Corporate Bodies”, “EHRI Personalities”, “Terezin Victim List”, “Terezin JMP Person List” and “JMP Person List for Jewish Community Guide”. You will mostly have to choose between “EHRI Corporate Bodies” and “EHRI personalities”. Please select the one appropriate for the authority you wish to create by clicking on it.

Please note that:

Other Alt. Identifiers (optional)

An institution may have multiple (supposedly unique) reference codes that are used to refer to archival units (i.e. an old one and a new one.) This is the case for USHMM, but also, apparently, for ITS and others. Note that the main identifier ("Reference Code") must exist and must be unique for a given institution. If you wish to mention old identifiers, you can do so under "Other Ref. Codes".

Description ID (optional)

This is only there to disambiguate multiple descriptions in the same language. For example, if EHRI was to create an alternative English description for a USHMM item, the description ID could be "EHRI".

Web source (optional)

This field is used to indicate the web address of a collection description which you copy manually (in the language of the website) into the EHRI database. If this description was not in English, you can add an English-language description via the “add description” button that becomes visible on the right-hand side of the EHRI database after you have saved the collection description.

The screenshot shows the 'Create Collection' interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for Portal, Search, Documentary Units, Historical Agents, Institutions, Terms, More, Help, Admin Site, and a user icon. Below the navigation, the title 'Arhiv Bosne i Hercegovine' is displayed. The main form area has several sections:

- Identity Area: Contains fields for Identifier (which is highlighted with a red box), Alt. Identifiers, Language of Description (set to ---), and a note about Formating tips.
- Context Area: Contains fields for Title, Parallel Names, and Web Source.
- Content Area: Contains a text input field for a note and a 'Tell people what you're doing (optional, 400 characters max)' message.
- Conditions Area: Contains a note about Materials Area.
- Materials Area: Contains a note about Control Area.
- Control Area: Contains a note about Administration.
- Administration: Contains a note about Formating tips.

At the bottom of the form, there are 'Create Collection' and 'Cancel' buttons. A large red arrow points from the left towards the 'Create Collection' button.

To update a collection description, work the same way as for the repositories (go to the collection and click “Edit Item” on the right-hand side).

When you create an original collection description, just fill out all the fields manually. When you copy information from existing descriptions (taken from archival source books, online, inventories, etc.), please:

1. Copy the data from the original description and structure this according to the EHRI Guideline for Collection Descriptions
2. If needed and possible, enrich the data with new information according to the EHRI Guideline for Collection Descriptions

3. Annotate the process of copying, editing and enriching in the field “Archivist Note” (“Control Area”)

When the original description is not written in English, please:

1. Copy the original information and paste it in the correct fields (structured according to the EHRI Guideline for Collection Descriptions)
2. Provide an English translation of each element of description. This needs to be done by clicking “Add Description” on the right-hand side

Important note on Copy collections:

The “creator” is the same as for the original collection, so the original person or the original administration. It is very important to describe the context elements (such as archival history, existence and location of originals etc) very well. Please indicate in the “scope and content” field what the precise scope is of what has been copied (full copy, partial copy and, if so, which selection). It is also advisable to add to the repository description that this CHI holds copy collections. When possible, link the original and the copy description via “Link to another item”.

E. Linking items

A final functionality is linking. Linking can be done between archival descriptions (collection descriptions) and between authorities. This can be done by clicking “Link to another item” on the right.

F. Formatting tips for the EHRI Database

While the EHRI database does not support “what you see is what you get” (WYSIWYG) editing, it uses a plain text scheme called Markdown that allows you write simple text that will render as more-attractively formatted HTML on the EHRI portal (this is similar to what Basecamp uses for bold and italic text.)

To create a new paragraph, leave a blank line between the end of the previous paragraph and the start of the new one (note: do not indent the first word of the paragraph because this denotes a quote (see below)).

To italicise some words, surround them with one asterisk (`*`), i.e. this word will be italicised. To bold some words, surround them with two asterisks (``) i.e. this word will be bold.

To create a set of bullet points, start each new bullet point with a hyphen (`-`), i.e:

- an item
- another item
- a third item

To create a number list, use a number and a period, i.e:

1. the first item
2. the second item
 - A nested unordered list item (indented by 4 spaces from the parent)
 - Another unordered list item
3. the third item

To denote some quoted text, indent the first word of the quoted paragraph by 4 spaces.

If you want to have bullet points inside an ordered list, you need to indent the first hyphen ("–") by four spaces per level, i.e:

1. An item
 - A nested bullet
 - Another nested bullet
2. Second item
 1. An ordered list item inside a bullet inside another ordered list

That will come out like:

1. An item
 - o A nested bullet
 - o Another nested bullet
2. Second item
 1. An ordered list item inside a bullet inside another ordered list

To make some words into a clickable link you need to put the link text in square brackets, immediately followed by the URL in parentheses, i.e. The last three words will be a [link to EHRI] (<http://www.ehri-project.eu>).
