International Holocaust Remembrance Day - 27 January 2023

25/01/2023

In 2005, the United Nations established an international day of commemoration in memory of the victims of the Holocaust. The UN designated 27 January (the liberation of Auschwitz) as International Holocaust Remembrance Day.

The European Holocaust Research Infrastructure has 27 partner institutions that commemorate this day with specific events and activities, appropriate for the country they are located in.

To mark International Holocaust Remembrance Day 2023, we've gathered some of these events to give an impression of how to commemorate this day.

Call for Applications EHRI Seminar | Engaging Educators

19/01/2023

August 7-11, 2023 | Location: Jewish Museum in Prague, Czech Republic

We invite applications from educators of different professional (e.g. secondary school teachers, lecturers involved in teacher training, educators at memorials and other commemorative initiatives) and national backgrounds to attend the first EHRI pedagogical Seminar. The event will offer an opportunity for educators to expand their skills when teaching about the Holocaust in different settings and familiarize them with EHRI's digital services.

For Holocaust Remembrance Day: Listen to the EHRI Podcast "For the Living and the Dead"

25/01/2025

To commemorate the victims of the Holocaust, you could listen to one of the six episodes of the EHRI podcast series For the Living and the Dead. Traces of the Holocaust. They all tell a very personal story of a Holocaust victim, while a researcher gives a wider perspective.

In each episode of For the Living and the Dead, a Holocaust researcher talks about an object, now often in a museum or archive, that tells a personal story about the Holocaust. The first season of the EHRI podcast features a teddy bear, mica-flakes, a postcard, gramophone discs, a magazine cover and a typewriter. The unique stories come from all over Europe – the Holocaust being a continent-wide phenomenon – ranging from Belgium to Ukraine, from Romania to Italy.
